FORTHCOMING MEETINGS 2025

	1
		The Ken Nunn collection: After the Grouping - 1923-29
20 th November	Jeremy Harrison	The 1923 Grouping, when most of the Railways of Great Britain were amalgamated into the 'Big Four' - the greatest reorganisation they had suffered in their first century, which was marked by the Railway Century Exhibition at Darlington in 1925. Jeremy's presentation looks at Britain's railways between 1923 and 1929, as the multitude of preceding companies were reorganised into the four systems with which most of us are familiar - a process which did not always go smoothly!
		India - Part 2
18 th December	Peter Robins	Peter will follow on from his earlier presentation, reciting further adventures in India. India was always a wonderful but slightly frustrating country that was full of surprises - some good some not so. From five visits made between 1981 and 1996, both presentations include a variety of steam classes at work on broad and metre gauge and on a number of the charming narrow gauge lines at various locations. Industrial lines also feature as does steam over the border in Pakistanfamiliar - a process which did not always go smoothly!
		From Railways to Royalty
15 th	Jack	Multi-award winning photographer Jack Boskett is set to captivate audiences with his upcoming presentation, "From Railways to
January		Royalty." His extensive portfolio includes his experiences as an official photographer during the solemn occasion of Queen Elizabeth II's
2026	Boskett	funeral and the grandeur of King Charles III's Coronation. Surprisingly, Jack attributes his remarkable journey to his initial passion for railways. This seemingly unrelated interest served as the catalyst for his eventual career trajectory. And showcasing his extraordinary talent and unique perspective. Plus - Expect a lot of humour and bad jokes!
